

Candy Dilemma

Possible Solutions

The six candies represent $\frac{1}{2}$ of $\frac{3}{4}$ of a box = $\frac{3}{8}$. Therefore, each $\frac{1}{8}$ of the box has two candies. This makes 16 candies in a full box.